

Lesson 2 Curry Travels around the World

1 次の英文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

In the past, India was a British colony. I think you have learned about ①it in world history class. In 1772, Warren Hastings, a clerk in the East India Company, brought back rice and many spices from India. He often ate curry with rice in India, so he wanted to eat it in the UK, too. Other people in the UK tried it and liked it. After ②that, curry gradually became popular in the UK.

At the beginning of the 19th century, the first curry powder appeared. ③Until then, people needed to work hard to mix the many spices to make curry. With the help of curry powder, people could make curry more easily and ④its popularity spread across the UK. Also, the British began to make curry thicker with flour. They used a recipe for stew, a traditional British food, to change curry to their own taste.
